Virginia's Unemployment Insurance Weekly Claims

— Seasonally unadjusted weekly initial unemployment insurance claims declined by 13.1% from the previous filing week as continued claims rose during that period—

RICHMOND—The Virginia Employment Commission (VEC) announced that the number of initial claims filed during the January 23 filing week remained elevated when compared to recent months' levels, according to figures released today.

For the filing week ending January 23, the figure for seasonally unadjusted initial claims in Virginia was 18,312. While still elevated compared to recent months' trends, the latest claims figure was a decrease of 2,761 claimants from the previous week. Elevated levels in recent weeks may have, in part, reflected seasonal spikes in layoffs often seen after the holidays, as well as reapplications for benefits following the government's renewal of supplemental benefits until March 14 as part of the latest stimulus package.

For the most recent filing week, continued weeks claimed totaled 67,298, which was a 5.4% increase from the previous week, but 45,637 higher than the 21,661 continued claims from the comparable week last year. Over half of claims that had a self-reported industry were in the accommodation/food service, administrative and waste services, retail trade, and healthcare/social assistance industries. The continued claims total is mainly comprised of those recent initial claimants who continued to file for unemployment insurance benefits during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Nationwide, in the week ending January 23, the advance figure for seasonally adjusted initial claims was 847,000, a decrease of 67,000 from the previous week's revised level. The previous week's level was revised up by 14,000 from 900,000 to 914,000. The advance number of actual initial claims under state programs, unadjusted, totaled 873,966 in the week ending January 23, a decrease of 101,498 (or -10.4 percent) from the previous week. There were 229,002 initial claims in the comparable week in 2020. Looking at preliminary data, most states reported decreases on a seasonally unadjusted basis. California's preliminary weekly change (-63,943) was the largest decrease among states. Georgia's preliminary weekly change (-9,255) was the second largest decrease. Texas's preliminary weekly change (-8,189) was the third largest decrease. Pennsylvania's preliminary weekly change (-7,868) was the fourth largest decrease. Virginia's preliminary weekly change (+526) was the eighth largest increase.
